

Contributing Authors

Heather Bennett, M.S.W., is a research associate, Office of Program Evaluation, College of Education, University of South Carolina, Columbia.

Sarah Cearley, Ph.D., L.C.S.W., is Director of Client Services at Arkansas Lawyers Assistance Program in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Laura Cox, M.S.W., L.M.S.W., is a counselor at the Savannah Vet Center, Savannah, Georgia.

Karen A. Gray, Ph.D., M.S.W., is an assistant professor at the College of Social Work, University of South Carolina, Columbia.

Gecole Harley, J.D., M.S.W., is the Ombuds, University of California, Irvine School of Medicine and Medical Center.

Barbara Head, Ph.D., R.N., A.C.S.W., is Research Director of the Interdisciplinary Program for Palliative Care and Chronic Illness at the University of Louisville, Kentucky.

Mary Hylton, Ph.D., M.S.W., is an assistant professor at the School of Social Work, University of Nevada, Reno.

Miriam McNown Johnson, Ph.D., M.S.W., is an associate professor and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs at the College of Social Work, University of South Carolina, Columbia.

Rachel C. Parker, L.M.S.W., is a school social worker at Lexington/Richland School District Five in Chapin, South Carolina.

Vicki M. Runnion, M.S.W., C.S.W., is a social worker at Hospice of Louisville, Kentucky. Since 1980, she has been involved in hospice and end-of-life care in a variety of roles, including volunteer, social worker, bereavement counselor, supervisor, and executive director. She has taught social work courses at the University of Louisville, Columbia College (SC), and the University of South Carolina, where she wrote and taught with decision cases. With Wolfer, Runnion was co-recipient of a Social Work Leadership Development Award from the Project on Death in America to support development of this case collection.

Rich Schlauch, M.S.W., L.C.S.W., is Clinical Services Director, Carolina Center for Counseling and Clinical Services, Gastonia, North Carolina.

Georgianne Thornburgh, M.S.W., L.M.S.W., is a retired hospice social worker, Savannah, Georgia.

Jeanette Ucci, M.S.W., is a social worker for Westminster Canterbury Richmond, a continuing care retirement community in Richmond, Virginia.

Terry A. Wolfer, Ph.D., M.S.W., is an associate professor at the College of Social Work, University of South Carolina, Columbia. He teaches social work practice, research and evaluation, and a case-based capstone course. He has coedited previous collections of decision cases on generalist and advanced social work practice, and on spirituality and religion in social work practice. His research interests include social work education, and religion and spirituality in social work practice. With Runnion, Wolfer was co-recipient of a Social Work Leadership Development Award from the Project on Death in America to support development of this case collection.