

Acknowledgments

In Their Own Voices could not have happened without the participation of those who recognized the value and timeliness of this project. This book moves across racial and ethnic lines and exemplifies the collective efforts of adoptive mothers and fathers, educators, playwrights, ministers, grass-roots organizations, politicians, adoption agencies, foster care children, and family and friends. Thank you for your support!

To the following people listed below, thank you especially for bringing forth the “voices” in this book . . . the Simon family, the Roorda family, the Pippin family, the Goode family, the Gray family, Rita Bernhard, Joyce Coninx Wright, and . . .
