

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction 1

1. THE STUDY 9

How It All Began 9

The Literature 12

The Deportee as Substance 12

The Deportee as Theory 16

Toward a Transnational Methodology 24

Contents of the Book 27

2. SETTING AND SAMPLE 33

History 34

The Contemporary Sociogeography of the Dominican Republic 36

The Political Economy of the Dominican Republic 37

What Happened to the Caribbean Miracle? 40

From Indirect to Direct Violence 42

The Sample 46

3. LEAVING FOR AMERICA 53

- Reasons for Leaving 54
- From the Indirect Violence of Poverty
to the Direct Violence of Repression 67
- Feelings of Loss 70
- Getting to America 72
- Conclusion 76

4. SETTLEMENT 79

- The Neighborhood 81
- Family Life 93
- School Life 99
- Getting a Job 106
- Conclusion 109

5. PATHWAYS TO CRIME 111

- Pathways to Crime 113
- The Peer Group 117
- What of Rational Choice? The Egocentric
Economic Decision 125
- What of the Family Context? 126
- Of Ethics and Socialization: Snitches and Corrupt Officials 130
- Conclusion 132

6. PRISON 135

- Legal Representation 136
- The Shock of the Sentence 138
- Prison Experiences 138
- Conclusion 159

7. DEPORTED 163

- Experiencing the Legal Process of Deportation 177
- The Flight Back 185
- Conclusion 186

8. BACK IN THE HOMELAND—PART ONE: THE SOCIAL-PSYCHOLOGICAL CRISIS OF THE DEPORTEE 189

- Getting Processed 190
- The Experience of Social Displacement and Stigmatization 192
- Moral and Physical Stigma 201
- Conclusion 209

9. BACK IN THE HOMELAND—PART TWO:
ECONOMIC, SOCIAL AND CULTURAL SURVIVAL 211

- Work 212
- The Formal Sector 213
- The Informal Sector 223
- Conclusion 241

10. BACK IN THE HOMELAND—PART THREE:
PRISON, DOMINICAN STYLE 243

- The Dominican Prison System 245
- The Situation at Najayo Prison 265
- Conclusion 269

11. THE RETURN OF THE DEPORTEES 271

- Why Go Back to the United States? 272
- How Do Deportees Return? 274
- Surviving in New York City 279
- Themes from the Interviews 288
- Conclusion 291

12. CONCLUSION 293

- Between Hope and Rejection 295
- Bulimia and a Contradictory Theory of Exclusion 295
- The Homecoming 297
- What of Resistance? 299
- New Practices and Policies of Inclusion? 301
- More Research 303

Appendix A: Dominican Central Bank Occupational Data 305
Appendix B: Internet Resources 313
Appendix C: Immigrant Rights 315
Appendix D: Pro-Immigrant Organizations Fighting Deportation 317
Notes 329
References 345
Index 361