Figures

Figure 2.1  Ratios of GDP per capita, 1820–2003

Figure 2.2  Catching up: GDP per capita of developing countries compared with OECD countries, 1950–2006

Figure 2.3  The global development cycle, 1951–2006

Figure 2.4  Percentage of developing countries with debt/GNI ratios above 50% and 100% respectively, and the 10-year U.S. treasury notes real interest rate

Figure 3.1  Annual growth rate per capita for the three main sectors, 1970–2006

Figure 3.2  Annual growth rate of GDP per capita and changes in agriculture output share, 1970–2006

Figure 3.3  Annual growth rate of GDP per capita and changes in industrial output share, 1970–2006

Figure 3.4  Overall productivity growth and sectoral contributions, 1990–2003/4

Figure 3.5  Sectoral contribution to productivity growth through reallocation gains, 1990–2003/4

Figure 3.6  Productivity decomposition for selected Asian regions, 1980/6–2000

Figure 3.7  Economic growth and educational improvements, 1970–2000

Figure 3.8  Sectoral shifts in employment/population ratios, 1991–2003/4
Figure 3.9  Growth rates of output and capital stock, 1990–2004
Figure 3.10  Capital and labor productivity growth rates and TFPG, 1991–2004
Figure 3.11  Growth rates of labor productivity and the energy/labor ratio
Figure 4.1  Merchandise exports as percent of GDP by regions, 1870–1998
Figure 4.2  Service sector as a share of total exports, 1980–2005
Figure 4.3  Ratio of aggregate non-oil commodity prices to manufacturing prices, 1900–2005
Figure 5.1  Resource gaps by institutional sectors in (A) Tigers, 1976–2006, (B) Southeast Asia, 1979–2006, and (C) semi-industrialized countries, 1980–2006
Figure 5.2  Resource gaps by institutional sectors in (A) Russia and Ukraine, 1995–2006, and (B) Representative Africa, 1980–2006
Figure 7.1  Counter-cyclical net borrowing
Figure 7.2  Pro-cyclical near instability
Figure 7.3  Reactions to an adverse external shock
Figure 8.1  Kaldor model with (A) weak and (B) strong profit-led demand
Figure 8.2  Kaldor-Rada model with strong profit-led demand
Figure 8.3  Kaldor-Rada model with weak profit-led or wage-led demand
Figure 8.4  Reducing unit labor costs by higher productivity or cutting wages
Figure 8.5  Heckscher model of falling unit variable cost in newer production units