Index

action plan for crisis, developing, 177 activities, therapeutic or meaningful, 51 advice, giving, 74
affirmation, need for, 44
aggregate analysis, 214–16 Akhtar, Salman, 51
alcohol, and medication, 147
Alcoholics Anonymous, 97
American Psychiatric Association,
   Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, 6, 18
Anthony, William, 198
antipsychiatry movement, 196 anxiety, 60; about failure, 50; about potential failure, 105; in case management services recipients, 201; structured group environment to help, 173 anxiety disorders, symptoms, 6 apartment: acquisition, 2; concerns about moving to, 122; vs. group home, 98–99; planned move to, 124–27 approach and avoidance, 43 assertiveness, 121; reconnecting with personal attribute, 56 assessment, in medication management process, 141 assurance, 66
autonomy, honoring, 104 avoiding, vs. approach, 43 awareness: of feelings, 48; of symptoms, 8 backseat drivers, 52–53 balancing caseloads, 17
bankruptcy, recommendation of, 186 Bauman, Zygmunt, 117 behavior, management of, 197 Berlin, Sharon, 104
bipolar disorder, 181, 183
boredom, 92
Boston University, Center for Psychiatric Rehabilitation, 198 boundaries: personal, 81; for relationships, 203; setting, 36 breakup with boyfriend, 65 bureaucracy, 57; of colleges, 55; exploring feelings about, 60–61 burnout, 17, 69; causes, 204; doing-for modes of relating as cause, 198 caregivers. See support network case management, 24; difficulty of, 73; phases of relationship, 158–60 case management relationships, 4, 9 case manager, 92, 220n; change in, 145–46; as client advocate, 60; client contact and access to inner world, 107; client feelings about relationship’s end, 148–49; feelings about client termination, 149; first meeting with new, 25, 154–56; interaction with family, 187–89; as new occupation, 193–94; observation of service providers, 139; role in medication management, 141; safety of, 220n; separating professional life from personal, 2; termination process with client, 149; as witness, 115; working relationships with service providers, 83 Case Western Reserve University, 207; Institutional Research Board, 219n caseloads, 80, 92; balancing, 17 catchment areas, 195 change, 95–96; in case manager, 145–46; over holidays, 78; unprepared for, 79 churches, social services, 90 client advocate, case manager as, 60 clients, 220n; case manager termination process, 149; contacts and access to inner world, 107; first meeting with, 25, 154–56; learning about, by observing and listening, 160; manager visits with, 42; paying attention to, 25; reaction to manager, 42; in relational case management method, 201–202; story construction, 18 codebook, 209–214; doing for oneself, 211–12; doing-for, 209–210 (see also doing-for modes of relating); doing-with, 210–11; standing by to admire, 212–14 codes of ethics, 16
collaboration, 19
colleges, bureaucracy, 55 comfort, from preparing food, 28 communication, failure in, 136–38 community, 193; care in, 195 community case management, 48 community colleges, 45
community locations, visiting clients in, 34 community support services (CSC), 195–96; early models, 196–97; fragmented, 196 concentration, difficulties with, 66, 136–37 confidentiality, 80–81. See also privacy conflicting feelings, 98–99 connectedness, maintaining, 114–15 connecting phase of case management relationship, 160 Consumer Protection Services (CPS), 143, 150–52; disappointment with, 186 consumers, 220n. See also clients consumption, society encouragement of, 117 content of relationship, focus on, 31 conversation: in early relationships, 13–14; to test clients’ awareness of self and external reality, 33 cooking, 51; attitudes about, 106 Courtney, Michael, Unfaithful Angels, 196 credit, 103
credit card debt, 101
crisis, 164–65; developing action plan for, 177; doing-for modes of relating in, 166; intervention plan for, 33; learning to anticipate, 167 crisis call, 91–93; follow-up to, 95 crisis network, 102
Cuyahoga River, pollution, 65 daily intervention note form, 217 data analysis, in research study, 208–209 data collection, in research study, 208 deadlines, 102
Deegan, Patricia, 9
dehistitutionalization, 140, 193; barriers to success, 196; new institutions developed after, 195–96 dependence: doing-for modes of relating and, 199; language of, 69; tension with independence, 199 depressive mood disorders, symptoms, 6 diagnosis, 18
diagnostic interview, in medication management process, 141 dignity, 194
disabilities, college assistive services for people with, 45–46 disappointment, 119, 179; with Consumer Protection Services (CPS), 186 discomfort, evaluating, 40 disorganization, periods of, 166 doing with, 14, 15, 210–11; after crisis, 153; and client advocate role, 60; vs. doing for, and burnout, 69; example, 108; in reflective thinking, 34; shifting to, 35, 36 doing-for modes of relating, 17, 108, 209–210, 219n; avoiding, 35–36; as cause of burnout, 198; in crisis, 166; as crisis call response, 94; vs. doing with, 35, 67; by goal setting, 56; by mental health system, 183; need for, 199, 203; transforming to doing with, 44 drinking, and medication, 147 DSM (American Psychiatric Association,
Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders), 6, 18

dysthymia, 45

embarrassment, 41, 151

Emerging Best Practices in Mental Health Recovery (Ohio Department of Mental Health), 9

effects, 24; handling, 105; learning to understand, 11

empathy, 66, 223n

empowerment, 35, 69, 222n ending phase of case management relationship, 160

engagement phase of relationships, 24; uncertainty in, 44

ethics codes, 16

evaluation, in medication management process, 141

evidence-based Supported Employment (SE), 119–20

external world, relationship between internal and, 5

failure: anxiety about, 50; expectation of, 72 family: case manager interaction with, 187–89; disapproving attitude, 171 fear: of being in trouble, 129; of psychiatric evaluation, 180, 183

feedback, openness to, 11 feelings: ambivalent, 131; attention to present, 25; avoiding strong, 29; of case manager about client termination, 149; client reaction to notice of, 29; conflicting, 98–99; leaving client alone with, 68; revealed by client, 42 files of professionals, vs. relationships, 136 finances, 27, 143, 152. See also money management review, 147

first experience, challenge of, 23

Floersch, Jerry, 197, 219n follow-up, to crisis call, 95 form, daily intervention note, 217

foster care, 92

Foucault, Michel, 194

freedom, 194. See also independence gentle observation, 25–26

goals, importance, 55

Goffman, Erving, 224n

good days, learning about, 169–70

goodbye, allowing time to prepare client for, 150

group home, 51; vs. apartment, 98–99, 127; eviction threat, 90–91; reluctance to leave, 130

group home supervisor, 32

group therapy, 171

guidelines, in research study, 2 guilt, 78; vs. shame, 68

Halloween, conversation about, 63

Hawthorne, Nathaniel, The Scarlet Letter, 49 helping network, 29, 102. See also support network

Downloaded from cupola.columbia.edu holidays, 77; change over, 78 holistic practice, 139 home visit, 30; case manager emotional response to, 33; comfort level of client, 31 honesty, 153; in reflective case management, 12–14 hope, 94; mental space for, 169; and recovery, 153 hospitalization of friend, 120–21 housing. See apartment; group home human relationships. See relationships identity as person, 83

“I’m bad” attitude, 69
	extit{Imagining Robert} (Neugeboren), 223n imminent danger, 91
inadequacy, feelings from relationship troubles, 65–66 independence, 15–16, 80, 98; noticing movement to, 35; tension with dependence, 199 independent living: conditions necessary for, 197; teaching, 113 individual education plan (IEP), 46 initiative by client, 181 integration, of new information about self, 162–63 interdependence, vs. independence and dependence, 15 internal self-critic, external expressions for, 59 internal world, relationship between external and, 5 Internet, 179

job, loss of, 165, 168, 170 job hunting, 112
journal, 203; for medication experience description, 142; of work progress, 202 judgmental statements, avoiding, 103–104 language, for clients to direct recovery, 201 “learning by doing” philosophy, 196 “least restrictive environments,” 195 library, 179, 181
limited resources, decisions about use, 117 listening, 25, 92; to learn about client, 160; in reflective case management, 177 loneliness, 91, 92; from change, 96 Longhofer, Jeffrey, 219n luxury, defining, 117
management relationship, doing-for modes of relating in, 202 Marilyn: breakup with boyfriend, 65; change of case manager, 145–49; family background, 38–39; independent action by, 182–83; interests, 27–28; medications discussion with psychiatrist, 168; move to apartment, 125–27; returning home, 182–83; social network, 26–27 meaning, creating, 36 meaningful activity, 51
med drop, 141
Medicaid, 146
medical gaze, 194
medications: ambivalent feelings about, 131; approach to noncompliance, 132;
change, 180; decision to change, 84;
decision to stop, 129, 139, 143;
discussion with psychiatrist, 168; impact, 141, 184, 185–86; reflecting on difficulty with managing, 139–40; role in mental health services, 140–42;
side effects, 142; sleeping as side effect, 184
meeting new people, 110–11 memory, for client, 162–63 mental disorder, 6
mental health, 5–6
mental health recovery, 3 mental health treatment, 4 mental hospitals, 193, 194; ability of staff to recognize pseudopatients, 224n;
emptying, 195
mental illness, 5–6; stigma from, 49–50 mental lives, domains of, 10 mental representations, 115 mentalization, 11, 108, 131 messiness, emotions and, 188 methods, in research study, 207–209 mild symptoms, 7
mind, 10
mindful self, 11
money, meaning of, 116, 152 money management, 101, 103, 122; beginning self-determined, 154; unpaid bills, 165 mood changes, 179
mortification, 71
narrative, multilayered reality, 19 National Institute of Mental Health, 195, 196 negative life outcomes from severe symptoms, 7
negative symptoms, 221n neighborhood, revitalization, 62 nervousness, controlling, 58–59
Neugeboren, Jay, Imagining Robert, 223n new environment, 23
new relationships, 158
nonjudgmental attitude, 25 nonreflective symptom monitoring, 84 note in mail, as crisis follow-up, 95 objects: and reconnecting to feelings, 123; and relationships, 114–15 observation: to learn about client, 160; for medication effects, 141–42; missed items by service providers, 143–44; of response to discomfort, 40–41; of service providers, 139; writing about, 189
observing ego, 11
observing self, 11
observing skills, developing, 30 office work, 32
Ohio Department of Mental Health, 198, 207; Emerging Best Practices in Mental Health Recovery, 9
One Flew Over the Cuckoo’s Nest, 193
openness, in reflective case management, 12–14
Oswald, Lisa, 219n
pain, causes, 162
panic, 92
panopticon, 194
paralysis, from stress, 128
paranoia, 29
partial hospitalization program (PHP), 165–66 people with disabilities, assistive services in college, 45–46 pep talks, 84
personal boundaries, 81 personal history, obtaining, 41 personal interests, attitudes about, 106 personal life, separating from professional, 37 personal narratives: importance, 39–40; importance of, 17–18 physical environment, impact, 53 physical pain, causes, 162 physician, misdirection of client, 147–48 places, moods of, 79
positive symptoms, 221n preparation phase of case management relationship, 158–59 prescriptions. See medications pride, 51; relationship to shame and stigma, 49
prison for the insane, 224n
privacy, 79–80, 144; lack of, 48; protecting, 34
private, vs. public, 36
private space of client’s home, negotiating, 31
problem-solving, social relations of, 214–15
process, focus on, 31, 56
professional life, separating from personal, 37
professional use of self, 16
progress notes, recording, 202
property, theft of, 181–82
propinquity, 196
pseudopatients, 224n
psychiatric evaluation, fear of, 180, 183
psychiatric gaze, 194
psychiatric medication, 140–42
psychiatrist, 224n; discussion about medication, 168; meeting with, 156–57; missing appointment with, 129–30; thoughts on symptoms, 138
psychosis, symptoms, 221n
psychotic disorders, symptoms, 7
public, vs. private, 36
public space: meeting in, 34; and privacy, 79
questions, 171: client response to, 63; waiting for answer, 102
reality, avoiding, 129
reality testing, 33, 222n
reappearance, 166
reassurance, 108
recognition, need for, 41
reconnection, crisis call as call for, 92 recovery, 8–9; components of, 198; disappointment in, 179–80; discovery process to define, 198; hope and, 153; implication of relational method for, 199–201; implications for future research, 204–205
pride, 51; relationship to shame and stigma, 49
prison for the insane, 224n
privacy, 79–80, 144; lack of, 48; protecting, 34
private, vs. public, 36
private space of client’s home, negotiating, 31
problem-solving, social relations of, 214–15
process, focus on, 31, 56
professional life, separating from personal, 37
professional use of self, 16
progress notes, recording, 202
property, theft of, 181–82
propinquity, 196
pseudopatients, 224n
psychiatric evaluation, fear of, 180, 183
psychiatric gaze, 194
psychiatric medication, 140–42
psychiatrist, 224n; discussion about medication, 168; meeting with, 156–57; missing appointment with, 129–30; thoughts on symptoms, 138
psychosis, symptoms, 221n
psychotic disorders, symptoms, 7
public, vs. private, 36
public space: meeting in, 34; and privacy, 79
questions, 171: client response to, 63; waiting for answer, 102
reality, avoiding, 129
reality testing, 33, 222n
reappearance, 166
reassurance, 108
recognition, need for, 41
reconnection, crisis call as call for, 92
recovery, 8–9; components of, 198; disappointment in, 179–80; discovery process to define, 198; hope and, 153; implication of relational method for, 199–201; implications for future research, 204–205 recovery process, support network strengths
and, 176
recovery relationships: goal of, 15; method for engaging, 4
recruitment, in research study, 207–208 reflection on self, 25
reflective case management, 12–14; vs.
holistic, 139; listening in, 177; skills, 84;
view of medication management, 140 reflective relationship matrix, 176 reflective thinking, client use of, 35 relapse prevention strategy, 167 relating to others, 31
relational case management method, 219n; client system, 201–202; daily intervention note form, 217; formal and informal caregiver system, 202–203; implications for recovery, 199–201; supervisory system, 203–204 relational cycle, 16 relationship matrix, 14; for self-reflection, 17 relationships, 9–10, 77–78; beginning, 24; boundaries, 203; breakup with boyfriend, 65; case manager with service providers, 83; categories of activity, 208–209; conversation early in, 13–14; difficulty of measuring, 204;
vs. files of professionals, 136; between internal and external worlds, 5, 28; keeping others in mind, 173; new, 158; objects and, 114–15; role in mental health recovery, 3; support from, 98; support network, 75; therapeutic, 4; understanding positive influence of,
99; update on, 96
remembering, 66–67
rescuing clients, exploring feelings about, 167
research study: aggregate analysis, 214–16;
data analysis, 208–209; data collection, 208; guidelines, 2; methods, 207–209;
recruitment, 207–208
resilience, 111
resource acquisition, 197
respect, 25, 44
restlessness, 81
restricted environments, mental hospitals as, 194
risk, feelings of, 159
role-play, 60
Rosenhan, David, 224n
safety: of case manager, 222n; need for, 182
The Scarlet Letter (Hawthorne), 49 schizophrenia, symptoms, 7 self: consumption impact on, 117; healthy part of self, 84; integration of new information about, 162–63; professional use of, 16; reflection on, 25; and society, 5
self-consciousness, 71
self-critic, external expressions for, 59 self-esteem, 105
self-image, 142
self-observation, 123; helping client develop, 107
self-perception: medications and changes in, 142; and shame, 68; transformation of, 17 self-reflection, 11–12; skills development, 12 separation, pain of, 68

separations: clients’ knowledge of meaning and impact, 148; struggles with, 127–28 service providers: case manager observation of, 139; case manager relationships with, 83; encouraging client to interact, 163; files vs. relationships, 136; forms of, 82; split treatment by, 144; substitutes for, 79 setting boundaries, 36

severe symptoms, 7

shame, 51, 71, 103; from accepting helping relationships, 201; case manager response to, 108–109; experience of, 50, 85; feelings from relationship troubles, 65–66; possibility for, 48; vs. stigma, 49 side effects, of medications, 142 sleeping, as medication side effect, 184

smoking, 1, 24, 171

social network, 26–27; perspective of persons in, 19 social network training, 172

Social Security office, 166, 170

social work, 196

society, and self, 5

Solomon, P, 153

solutions, client discovery of, 131

somatization, 162

Specht, Harry, Unfaithful Angels, 196 teach-the-task relationship, 113 termination process with client, 149 theft, of property, 181–82

therapeutic activity, 51 therapeutic relationships, 4 thinking, as doing-for mode of relating, 61

third-person narrative, 3

Titicut Follies, 224n

tobacco, to manage intense feeling, 26

“total institution,” 194, 224n treatment team, case manager information for, 107–108 trust, 34, 77–78, 105–106, 159, 201; building, 44

turnover, 92

uncertainty, in engagement phase of relationships, 44

Unfaithful Angels (Specht and Courtney), 196

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, 198

validation, need for, 44 violation of privacy, 34

violence, exposure to, 107

Web site, for book, 20, 85

Wiseman, Frederick, 224n

witness, case manager as, 115

wonder, 160

work progress journal, 202

working alliance, 115

working phase of case management relationship, 160 working triangle of behavior, thought and emotion, 10